

Miss Coward To Be Bride of John H. Mallon

Wedding of Mary Cameron and Juan Mayer Will Take Place at Noon To-day in St. Thomas's Church

Irma Waterhouse Engaged

Beatrice Draper and Elliot Cobb To Be Married at St. James' This Afternoon

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fales Coward, of 64 East Ninetieth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Josephine Fales Coward, to John Howard Mallon, of Cincinnati. The wedding will take place about the middle of June, and after a honeymoon at Otero Park, near Tannersville, N. Y., where Mr. and Mrs. Coward have a cottage, Mr. Mallon and his bride will go to Louisville, Ky., where they will make their home. Miss Coward was introduced to society a few seasons ago, and in addition to the usual activities in the Junior League has been prominent in the tennis world and on the amateur stage. She has acted a number of times with the Amateur Comedy Club, and during the war, in association with her father and others, toured the various camps near New York in a repertoire of one-act plays.

Mr. Mallon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ward Mallon. His father is a well known lawyer of Cincinnati. Young Mr. Mallon is a graduate of Yale, class '15, and served eighteen months overseas as first lieutenant in the 151st Field Artillery, Rainbow Division.

Miss Mary Cameron, daughter of Duncan Cameron and granddaughter of Sir Roderick Cameron, will be married at noon today in St. Thomas's Church, to Juan R. Mayer, son of Charles W. Mayer. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Street, and a reception will follow at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Belmont Tiffany, 67 East Ninety-second Street.

The marriage of Miss Beatrice Draper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Draper, of 307 West Eighth Street, to Elliot Cobb, son of Mr. L. Henry Cobb, takes place this afternoon at St. James' Church, Madison Avenue and Seventy-third Street. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Frank W. Crowder and will be followed by a reception for relatives and intimate friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Draper.

Another wedding to-day will be that of Miss Gertrude Stewart Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stewart Walker, of Dongan Hills, Staten Island, to Jerome H. Franks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Franks, of 138 East Sixty-sixth Street. The ceremony will be performed at 2 o'clock in Christ Church, New Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner Waterhouse, of New York and Pinehurst, N. C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Irma, to Frederick Clowes Hewlett, of Merrick, L. I. Miss Waterhouse is a graduate of Vassar, class '14, and served overseas as a canteen worker. Mr. Hewlett is a graduate of Williams, class '19, and was a lieutenant in the field artillery.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr.

NEW MYSTERY STORIES BY FLETCHER
The Chestermark
-Instinct-
—just out!
Concerns the sudden and inexplicable disappearance of the manager of a country bank.

The Orange Yellow Diamond
—recently published
"A rattling good yarn—excellent entertainment!"
—New York Times.
$2.25 net at all booksellers

THE SEVENTH ANGEL
By Alexander Black
HARPER & BROS. Est. 1817 New York

From the Evening Transcript, Boston: "Mr. Black is pursuing the same realistic line of which we have heard so much."

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Harper & Bros. Est. 1817 New York

Miss Eleanor Josephine Fales Coward

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fales Coward, who last night announced her engagement to John Howard Mallon.

have returned to the city from Hot Springs, Va.

Lady Decies will arrive from England next month and will go to Georgian Court, Lakewood, where she will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould. Mrs. Gould probably will return with her daughter to England in July.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Davis, of Tuxedo Park, will pass the summer at the Hotel Plaza.

Mrs. Armour Ferguson, of 28 West Tenth Street, will sail for Europe May 14 to pass the spring and summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Auchincloss, Miss Joanna Auchincloss and Mrs. Carlos de Hemia have returned to the city from Hot Springs, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Green, who returned recently from Palm Beach, will pass the spring at their place in Tuxedo Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin N. Duke, Angier B. Duke and Mr. J. C. Thorne have returned from Durham, N. C. Mr. and Mrs. Duke are at their home, 2 East Eighty-ninth Street, and Mrs. Thorne is at the Lorraine.

Mrs. Anson G. McCoon and Mrs. K. McCook Knox are at the Homestead, Hot Springs, Va., for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scribner will close their city house on Tuesday and go to their country place at Morris-town, N. J.

Hardings Entertain Mayflower Voyagers
Breakfast on Yacht Proceeds Return; Summer Home in Suburbs Is Leased by Hughes

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The President and Mrs. Harding entertained the guests who accompanied them to Hampton Roads for the review of the Atlantic fleet at breakfast on board the Mayflower this morning. They reached the White House about 9 o'clock. Mrs. Harding entertained visitors by appointment this afternoon.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Hughes have leased Quayside, a suburban place on the edge of Rock Creek Park for the summer. They are expected to begin their deferred social program as soon as they are settled there, just after May 15. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were entertained at dinner tonight by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren.

Prince Alibi of Monaco entertained at luncheon today. To-morrow he will visit Mount Vernon. To-night he was the guest of honor at a dinner party given by the Third Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert Wood Bliss.

The engagement was announced today of James Wilson Wallace, son of the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Wallace, to Miss Virginia Stubbs, of Des Moines. Mr. Wallace is editor of his father's paper, Wallace's Farmer. The wedding will take place in Des Moines in the early autumn.

French songs, from Folkways to Opera, by Miss Esther Benson, at Townsend Harris Hall, C. C. N. Y., Amsterdam Avenue and 124th Street, 8 o'clock.

"The Cause of Crime," by Dr. William P. Bliss, at C. C. N. Y., Harlem branch, 1 West 124th Street, 8 o'clock.

Travelling Club, entertainment and dance, at Waldorf-Astoria, 8 o'clock.

Lecture by William Howard Taft on "Representative Government," Town Hall, 125 West Forty-third Street, 8 o'clock.

Reception and dance of the De Witt Clinton High School Alumni Association, at the Hotel Madison, 110 West Fifty-fifth Street, 8 o'clock.

Variety show of the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute, Masonic Temple, Coney Island, 8 o'clock.

"Heads of the Cooper Union Debating Class," Cooper Union, 8 o'clock.

Class, Cooper Union, 8 o'clock.

Class, Cooper Union, 8 o'clock.

Class, Cooper Union, 8 o'clock.

Class, Cooper Union, 8 o'clock.

U. S. Newspaper Powers Pledge Aid to Harding

American Association Gives Assurance of Support to "Fellow Publisher" in Presidential Problems

Sanity Big Need, They Say

Most Officers Re-elected in Convention; N. Y. Tribune Man Is Named Treasurer

President Harding was assured the support of American publishers "in the difficult problems that confront him" in a resolution adopted yesterday by the American Newspaper Publishers Association, which ended its thirty-fifth annual convention, at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Referring to the President as "a fellow-publisher who had been called to high responsibilities in a time when great sanity and poise, as well as undeviating patriotism and Americanism are called for at the seat of national government," the resolution continued:

"Since we met in convention a year ago President Wilson has completed his eight historic years as President, and another great American, Warren G. Harding, Senator and publisher, has become Chief Executive. Having every confidence in his high patriotism and lofty purpose, knowing his training in statecraft and his capacity to serve and lead a sound public sentiment, this association expresses to President Harding on behalf of the American publishers its assurance of support in the difficult problems that confront him, and to voice the faith that the Ship of State will be safely steered through troubled waters into safe harbors."

Officers Are Re-elected
The convention elected the following officers: President, Charles R. Baker, Pittsburgh Press; vice-president, Paul Patterson, Baltimore Sun, and secretary, John Stewart Bryan, Richmond News-Leader.

Howard Davis, business manager of The New York Tribune, was elected treasurer, succeeding George H. Larke, of The World. He was also appointed to the committee in charge of the bureau of advertising of the association.

Named on the board of directors are J. E. Atkinson, The Star; E. H. Baker, Cleveland Plain Dealer; Frank G. Bell, Savannah News; E. H. Brown, Buffalo News; Hilton U. Brown, Indianapolis News; Harry Chandler, Los Angeles Times; Charles L. Rogers, Chicago Daily News; and Charles H. Taylor Jr., Boston Globe.

Under authorization of the association, President Williams appointed a committee to negotiate with the four international unions in the printing trades new arbitration contracts to become effective May 1, 1922. Those contracts are: American Federation of Labor; International Union of Bookbinders; International Union of Printers; and International Union of Newspaper Workers.

Chairman, Victor H. Lippard, Kansas City Star; E. H. Baker, Cleveland Plain Dealer; E. Lansing Ray, St. Louis Post-Dispatch; W. J. Pape, Waterbury Republican; Amos G. Gannett, Port Worth Star Telegram; August S. Crane, Elizabeth Journal; D. B. Moore, Troy Record; Marco Morrow, Toledo Capital; W. S. Jones, Oregonian; Edwin Ward, Portland Oregonian; Charles D. Atkinson, Atlanta Journal; C. P. J. Mooney, Memphis Commercial Appeal; A. W. Peterson, Waterloo Courier; W. S. Jones, Minneapolis Journal; Charles H. Taylor Jr., Boston Globe; M. F. Hanson, Duluth Herald; Chris H. Pembold, Cincinnati Times-Star; Roy Howard, Scripps-McRae, League of Clevelanders; J. P. Noyes, Washington Star; Ralph H. Booth, Grand Rapids Press; Bradford Merrill, New York American; D. E. Thompson, Mobile Post; Frederick L. Gannett, Rochester Times-Union.

Davis Has Advertising Aids
Besides Mr. Davis, the Bureau of advertising committee includes Lafayette Young, Jr., Des Moines Capital; Harry Chandler, Los Angeles Times; William Findlay, Toronto Globe; Fleming C. McGowan, New York Times; B. Plum, Troy Record; S. E. Thomson, Chicago Tribune; Louis Wiley, New York Times; John B. Woodward, Chicago Daily News; D. Moore, New Orleans Times-Picayune; and William F. Rogers, Boston Transcript.

A committee was also appointed to consider suggestions for departmentalizing the activities of the association in such a way as to include a bureau of National Advertising as Deal Book now being done by the National Association of Newspaper Executives, the International Circulation Managers' Association and kindred bodies. On this committee were named Gardner Cowles, Des Moines Register; Marcellus Foster, Houston Chronicle; A. W. Peterson, Waterloo (Iowa) Courier; Daniel Nicoll, New York Evening Mail; and Joseph B. Finan, Cumberland (Md.) Evening Times.

Resolutions were adopted opposing the movement to obtain acceptance of national advertising as Deal Book now being done by the National Association of Newspaper Executives, the International Circulation Managers' Association and kindred bodies. Plans were laid for a membership drive among clubwomen, preparatory to beginning work on the restoration of Roosevelt House, the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Harry M. Lilly, representative New York City clubwomen. Other guests were Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Mrs. Henry Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Miss Helen Hepburn and Mrs. James Russell Parsons.

Williams, who presided during the three-day convention, declared it was the largest and most profitable of further accomplishment in the history of the association.

Clubwomen at Luncheon Plan for Memorial to Roosevelt
Mrs. Douglas Robinson entertained at luncheon yesterday prominent clubwomen from the various club districts of New York State, in an effort to interest them in the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association. Plans were laid for a membership drive among clubwomen, preparatory to beginning work on the restoration of Roosevelt House, the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Harry M. Lilly, representative New York City clubwomen. Other guests were Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Mrs. Henry Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Miss Helen Hepburn and Mrs. James Russell Parsons.

Williams, who presided during the three-day convention, declared it was the largest and most profitable of further accomplishment in the history of the association.

Clubwomen at Luncheon Plan for Memorial to Roosevelt
Mrs. Douglas Robinson entertained at luncheon yesterday prominent clubwomen from the various club districts of New York State, in an effort to interest them in the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association. Plans were laid for a membership drive among clubwomen, preparatory to beginning work on the restoration of Roosevelt House, the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Harry M. Lilly, representative New York City clubwomen. Other guests were Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Mrs. Henry Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Miss Helen Hepburn and Mrs. James Russell Parsons.

Williams, who presided during the three-day convention, declared it was the largest and most profitable of further accomplishment in the history of the association.

Clubwomen at Luncheon Plan for Memorial to Roosevelt
Mrs. Douglas Robinson entertained at luncheon yesterday prominent clubwomen from the various club districts of New York State, in an effort to interest them in the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association. Plans were laid for a membership drive among clubwomen, preparatory to beginning work on the restoration of Roosevelt House, the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Harry M. Lilly, representative New York City clubwomen. Other guests were Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Mrs. Henry Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Miss Helen Hepburn and Mrs. James Russell Parsons.

Williams, who presided during the three-day convention, declared it was the largest and most profitable of further accomplishment in the history of the association.

Clubwomen at Luncheon Plan for Memorial to Roosevelt
Mrs. Douglas Robinson entertained at luncheon yesterday prominent clubwomen from the various club districts of New York State, in an effort to interest them in the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association. Plans were laid for a membership drive among clubwomen, preparatory to beginning work on the restoration of Roosevelt House, the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Harry M. Lilly, representative New York City clubwomen. Other guests were Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Mrs. Henry Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Miss Helen Hepburn and Mrs. James Russell Parsons.

Williams, who presided during the three-day convention, declared it was the largest and most profitable of further accomplishment in the history of the association.

Clubwomen at Luncheon Plan for Memorial to Roosevelt
Mrs. Douglas Robinson entertained at luncheon yesterday prominent clubwomen from the various club districts of New York State, in an effort to interest them in the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association. Plans were laid for a membership drive among clubwomen, preparatory to beginning work on the restoration of Roosevelt House, the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Harry M. Lilly, representative New York City clubwomen. Other guests were Mrs. John Henry Hammond, Mrs. Henry Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, Miss Helen Hepburn and Mrs. James Russell Parsons.

Williams, who presided during the three-day convention, declared it was the largest and most profitable of further accomplishment in the history of the association.

Harding Declines 'Joy' Of Becoming Mediator

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The White House today let it become known that the President did not learn with feelings of joy the reported determination of the striking Marine Unions to place their grievances before him for settlement.

Officials said that the President cannot be expected to act as arbiter in every decision put up to him, and that, furthermore, such action would establish a precedent which might lead to complications. From the practical standpoint, the Chief Executive does not have the time to devote to long and careful consideration to the many details involved in such cases.

The first clause in the customary direction for the payment of just debts and funeral expenses, expense of the erection and payment of expenses connected with settling the estate.

Mr. Burroughs then directs the payment of net income arising from the old home, the farm, and the Catskill Mountains, to his granddaughter, Elizabeth Burroughs, and subject to this provision he gives the farm itself, with all livestock and farming implements, to his son, Julian Burroughs.

Subject to a life estate created for C. G. Barrus, he gives his famous little cottage, Slabside, on the banks of the Shawangunk Mountains, overlooking the Hudson River, to Julian, to whom, he states in a memorandum dated on January 1, he has heretofore conveyed the cottage. "I wish to leave it to Julian," he says, "I trust that he will make the real estate I devote to him to my grandson, John Burroughs."

Library to Grandchildren
One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

John Burroughs's Will Filed; Shows His Love of Simplicity

Famous Naturalist Directed That Funeral Cost No More Than $100; Left Estate to Friends and the Members of Family; Chose Grave

KINGSTON, N. Y., April 29.—The simplicity and frankness which made him beloved and friends which made him loved by his friends mark the will of John Burroughs, noted naturalist, which was filed for probate here today.

"Let me not be made to appear proud and fond of vain show when I am dead," the will says, and it sets forth that not more than $100 be spent for his funeral. The first clause in the customary direction for the payment of just debts and funeral expenses, expense of the erection and payment of expenses connected with settling the estate.

Mr. Burroughs then directs the payment of net income arising from the old home, the farm, and the Catskill Mountains, to his granddaughter, Elizabeth Burroughs, and subject to this provision he gives the farm itself, with all livestock and farming implements, to his son, Julian Burroughs.

Subject to a life estate created for C. G. Barrus, he gives his famous little cottage, Slabside, on the banks of the Shawangunk Mountains, overlooking the Hudson River, to Julian, to whom, he states in a memorandum dated on January 1, he has heretofore conveyed the cottage. "I wish to leave it to Julian," he says, "I trust that he will make the real estate I devote to him to my grandson, John Burroughs."

Library to Grandchildren
One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $10,000 a year, beginning on January 1, 1922, and continuing until the sum has been paid in full."

One thousand dollars each is given to the four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Julian, John, and Mary. Elizabeth and Julian also give him, to be divided among them "at the discretion of their father," $100 a year, to be paid annually. The sum is given to his brother, Eden Burroughs, during his lifetime, and $250 to Hudson Covert, of West Park.

"To my friend, Henry Ford, of Dearborn, Mich., I give the sum of $100,000, to be paid to him in installments of $1